Group II. The Buzzer. Brookville High School. Lynchburg, Rt. 2.

The Buzzer is a conventional and handsome little annual which lacks the originality and surprises to make it rise above many others in its group.

Its title page should have the name and address of the high school. Photography, engraving, and printing are good, but layout and arrangement are uninspired. Pictures and names seem to suffice for most of the activities and clubs. Snapshot pages have too many small pictures--some too poor to be included--which would be more meaningful if they had good captions. Most of the copy (Junior Swing Fever, Observer From Mars, etc.) are very youthful, can be easily done, and are of doubtful value. Only a moderately effective yearbook.

The 1948 staff might profit by a study of other yearbooks and by more careful planning and a search for imagination and more originality.

A CHALLENGE TO THE SENIORS OF '47

You, the Seniors of 1947, are about to take on new tasks in an uncertain but hopeful world. Be sure to accept your responsibility as a citizen of this world.

The standards of tomorrow are dependent upon the work done by two organizations of today: the church and the school. Neither is as strong as it should be in order to do the necessary job. They both need your active support, and will always need it.

Finally, remember that learning is a continuing process; so far, you have merely scratched the surface.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

"FRESHMEN" — Together we stand, divided we fall — we were divided. Mrs. Giles and Miss Lindsay soon found out that we were like other freshmen—WILD! This year we were unfortunate to lose Marc Sisk, who died December 30, 1943. Finally toward the end of the year we were tamed down and found out that we were just a small part of B. H. S.

"SOPHOMORES"—We were divided again, were we that bad!? This year our two teachers were Mrs. Ray Smith and Mr. Hicks. We had our exploits in algebra, solving for X; and in Latin class we found out that there were a few pulchra puellas at B. H. S.—where? We saw students standing in the halls with an M band on, did that stand for moron? Thus passed the Sophomore year.

"JUNIORS"—Ahem ! ! One more year after this. With the class still so large that it had to be divided, one section marveled joyously at the "witty" jokes told them by their chuckling, musically talented teacher, Mr. R. J. Baldwin; while the other half enjoyed their homeroom in the lab with Mrs. Mosteller.

We had a wonderful time practicing the Junior play, a mystery named, "Phantom Bells." Mrs. Morey, did you miss those cookies? Then came another big night, the Junior-Senior Banquet. The boys walked on the girls feet, but everyone had a wonderful time. And so passed another year at ole' Brookville High.

"SENIORS"—Ah ! ! That long awaited day has arrived. Say, what are those girls looking at? Oh, we have some veterans with us. They are Billy Roach, Billy Dolan and Edgar Pickrel. We also have a new principal. Isn't he good-looking? Mrs. Macon just announced that the rings are here. My! are we proud. We even have a coach, Mr. Milam, and this year our basketball team really was on the beam. And how!

We looked but we couldn't find any Senior Privileges until Mrs. Macon comforted us by telling us it is a big privilege to be a Senior. George Shelor left our class for the Marines. Christmas Holidays were enjoyed by everyone; then came midterm exams, but we got through.

As this goes to press, we hear rumors of the Juniors busily preparing for the Junior-Senior banquet—the Seniors are busy too. Yes, really practicing on the play, "Little Mother." Time draws near for the class of '47 to leave the friendly doors of B. H. S. for the last time.

AN OBSERVER FROM MARS

As I peer off the edge of my planet today, I can see one hundred odd green, scared stiff, Freshmen entering the bards of B. H. S. Leading them along their way are Messrs. Darst, Hicks, and Wright.

The month is swiftly moving on and today the Freshman Class is electing officers. I can see through my telescope the following: President, Mildred Jennings; Vice-President, Albert Poindexter; Secretary, Evelyn Fields; and Treasurer, Austin Salmon.

Time is fleeing on my neighboring planet as I can see the first six weeks period has ended and reports go out. Several look disappointed!

For some time there has been a blurr on the earth, but today I have discovered it is Mr. Milam and he has all the athletic stars twinkling. The object: Basketball. After hard practices several make the team.

Star Light! Star Bright! October and November have passed and December is well under way. Reports go out again and several individuals still seem dejected.

Glancing around the heavens tonight I find all Brookville's attraction centered around the Woman's Club. Yes, my calculations were right. It's a school dance ! ! Gosh! They're having loads of fun and plenty of eats. Quite a memorable night!

Students return from an enjoyable Christmas vacation. It seems hard for the Freshmen to settle down, but after a month they improve slightly. The auditorium serves as the "Rats" regular lecture room and Mr. McIntosh their favorite lecturer.

I almost had visitors today. The reason: Exams are over and reports send certain people "high in the air."

The former class entertainers have settled down to work after exam grades have been vindicated and as time has flown these six weeks grades show improvement.

Focusing my telescope on the Woman's Club once more I see both Basketball Squads and Cheer Leaders being honored with a banquet. Several "Rats" are included and are enjoying themselves immensely.

Today, to my regret, I see an expedition heading toward my planet causing me to "dip my head" for a "month of Sundays."

So long ! !

LITTLE HOLLAND BONKET AND POLENAIZE

The Junior and Senior classes, faculty and guests went on an imaginary trip to Holland for their annual banquet and dance, May 2, 1947.

The setting for the banquet and dance was in a garden in Holland. A white picket fence stood at the entrance of the room, and there were potted ferns, plants, and tulips galore. The tables continued the color scheme of yellow and blue. Tiny dutch windmills were scattered the length of the table. Yellow candles gave a moonlight glow to the occasion. Tiny dutch shoe coasters were used. The favors, little dutch shoes, made ideal nut cups.

The members of the P. T. A. prepared the meal which was served by girls dressed in dutch costumes. During the meal, strains of, "Down By The Old Mill Stream," and "When You Wore a Tulip," could be heard. Gerald Carey, Junior Class president, gave the Junior Class reminiscences entitled, "When You Wore a Tulip," and Sydney Baker, Senior Class president, responded with the Senior Class reminiscences entitled, "I Wore a Big Red Rose." Other mill stream gossip followed and like, "Nosey Dutchmen," we wanted to hear what everyone had to say.

Following the Bonket we all joined in the dutch Polenaize. The girls looked pretty in their multi-colored gowns and corsages and the boys looked quite handsome in their dress suits, white shirts, and neckties. Even the members of the faculty were all diked up in their party best with flowers to accent.

At the stroke of twelve like Cinderellas, we started home from our Holland Garden, bearing our dutch shoe favors and having enjoyed our trip immensely.
